GOOD NEWS FOR HOMEMAKERS

HOW TO KEEP WARM

The energy crisis and high fuel bills are encouraging all of us to find other means to beat the cold temperatures. One solution to warming up with the thermostat turned down is to wrap up in a quilted "sack" for relaxing evening of reading, TV viewing or studying. There are at least seven manufacturers now marketing varsions of the "sack" or garment bag in a variety of patterns and colors.

If you have a sleeping bag at home that is the comforter type, use this to zip up and stick your feet in while you are sitting in your family room or doing your school work. Some sacks are dual purpose now. They open flat for use on a bed or can be zipped up for use as a sack. This is very similar to the lightweight type sleeping bag. Some sacks make use of zippers, snaps and drawstrings to allow walking with the item on and to cover and uncover as desired. A word of caution is due here for your safety. Please be careful when using these and do not fall with them on.

Sacks are made from blends of cotton and polyester fabrics with brushed nylon or brushed nylon and acetate linings and polyester filling. Because these warm-ups are sure to get a lot of attention this season, they should be cared for according to the label. Please read the manufacturer's care label carefully for suggested washing and drying methods.

Another way to keep warm this winter is the new leisure type quilted body suits. This is basically a jumpsuit garment. Some come in hooded styles and others come with matching booties.

Coupled with the sack and jumpsuit products to combat the energy crisis, the comforter and bedspread industry had reevaluated how people live and what kind of home furnishings they need. As more women enter the work force, lack of time has spurred the rise of the unmade and easily made bed. Innovations in bedding items reflect this change in lifestyle.

Tailored, fitted bed coverings are easy care and quick to make up neatly. Offerings in the bedwear line include an adjustable fitted comforter, a tailored quilted bed skirt and fitted mattress cover, a combination fitted sheet and mattress pad, a fitted cover and comforter combination.

You can see there are many new products on the market to help keep us warm. Who says that necessity is not the mother of invention? Many of the above mentioned items have been designed and created because of the lower thermostats and high fuel bills. Consumers may be in for a number of surprises in the seasons ahead because of our need as we turn down our thermostats and continue to pay higher fuel costs.

Should you have a question or problem on purchasing these items or on caring for these items, you may call or write the Appomattox County Extension Office.e P.O. Box 488, Appomattox, Va. 24522 or call us at 352-8244.

Homemakers, I wish to remind you that the 1978 Christmas Open House will be held at the Appomattox County Extension Office on November 8-10. This open house will be daily from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. It also will be open on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7 to 9 p.m. We wish to invite each of you to attend. This should be the best yet, and we are looking forward to sharing with you a copy of our Christmas booklet entitled "Christmas in Appomattox." Have a good week!

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Neola's Chicken Casserole

2 cups cooked chicken breast (4 large or medium diced)
1 can water chestnuts (sliced)
1 can cream of chicken soup
1 carton sour cream onion dip or chopped onions added to sour cream
1 cup cooked rice

Mix all ingredients together. Place in casserole and sprinkle with corn flake crumbs. Melt a little butter and add to crumbs. Place over contents. Cook at 325 for 30 minutes. Do not let it get too dry by overcooking. NOTE: Many thanks to Mrs. Neola Smith for sharing this mouth-watering chicken casserole with us. She served this at a church supper and everyone was talking about it and trying to locate the "good cook" who brought it. We are running this recipe again because of many requests.

When The SOUTHERN STATES FARM AND HOME CATALOG came out for 1979 , on the front cover was a most attractive and familiar scene. It was the interior of an old country store of 'by gone' days.

On the wide planks of the bare floors sat wooden boxes containing sweet potatoes and Irish potatoes. There was chewing tobacco, brooms, and even a bonnet.

You see along the counter fresh eggs in a bowl, horehound candy in a jar and cheese in an old-fashioned wooden cheese box. On the shelves behind the counter we see everything from cups and saucers to pills and ointments.

By the way, does the lady dressed in her long-sleeved, high-neck dress look familiar? She should! She is Mrs. Charlie Martin, (Winnie), of Appomattox. As an employee of the Appomattox Court House National Park Service, Winnie serves as clerk in the restored Meeks Store in the park area.

The SOUTHERN STATES FARM AND HOME CATALOG reaches farm homes in five states.

Appomattox Student Inducted In College's Newly Formed Society

STAUNTON, VA. - The Elizabeth Nottingham Day Honor Society for Women in the Arts has been formed at Mary Baldwin College, and the first memers of this new society were inducted Monday night.

Installation ceremonies and a reception were held at the home of MBC President, Dr. Virginia L. Lester. The following people were made officers: Gloria Zuniga, president (founder and initiator of the new honor society), Liz Lewis, vice president; Marylou Skidmore, corresponding secretary; Nancy Mann, membership secretary and Shelley Goode, treasurer.

In addition, the following seniors were inducted, Nancy Dana of Columbia, S.C., Dorothy Drake of Norfolk, Va., Martha Hutner of Appomattox, Va., Barbara Strong of Wilmington, Del., Mary Lisa Warren of South Hill, Va., Susie Miska of Staunton, Ann Herron of Waynesboro, Va., Deece Ott of Staunton, Taylor Cockerham of Springfield, Va. Juniors Susan Elizabeth Walker of Bethesda, Md. and Sally Simon of Tyler, Tex. were also inducted.

Three honorary members were inducted as well. They incude Dr. Mary Echols, associate professor of art; Mr. Mike Campbell, instructor of music; and Dr. Virginia Francisco, associate professor of drama.

The society, named for an outstanding former member of the Art faculty, has been formed to recognize individual who have attained a high standard of achievement in the arts. Requirements for participation in the society include the successful completion of one year at Mary Baldwin as a full-time student and attainment of a junior standing. In addition, the student must have an average of 2.5 out of 3.0 in the arts with a cumulative average of 2.0 or better; and have completed at least five courses in the arts, three of which are in the same discipline.

FHA Officer Of Month

The "Officer of the Month" for October attended a chapter planning meeting and helped put a chapter bulletin board. She helped plan and set up the fair booth for the Five-County Fair, and made and sold baked goods at the Railroad Festival. She attended the Federation Mini-Conference at Appomattox County High School in September, and helped teach a class on money-making at the mini-conference. She worked on the FFA Hub Federation Program and helped plan the chapter Fashion Show. The "Officer of the Month" for October is Sheila Roach.

Make Halloween Happy, Healthy

A happy Halloween for children depends in part on the active, interested involvement of adults. Take the trick out of Halloween treating this year with "Meet 'n Treat."

A nationwide public service program, sponsored by the National Confectioners Association and supported by the National Safety Council and Consumer Products Safety Commission, "Meet 'n Treat" emphasizes the positive, wholesome, family-oriented aspects of Halloween.

The program asks parents to make the treating rounds with their children in the afternoon or early evening hours. And, it encourages neighborhoods to plan block parties and other get-togethers to foster the spirit of friendliness.

Other basic safety tips?

• Make sure costumes are light, non-flammable and short enough to prevent tripping. Use reflective tape so they glow in the beam of headlights.

• Use face make-up instead of masks which can obscure vision and cause difficulty in breathing.

• Give and urge children to accept only commercially wrapped and sealed candy or other treats.

• Observe all pedestrian safety rules, as given by the National Safety Council. Walk, don't run, when crossing streets . . . and look both ways.

• Turn porch and exterior lights on to signify "Meet 'n Treaters" are welcome.

• And, if you're a motorist on All Hallow's Eve, drive especially carefully.

• But, perhaps the best safety tip of all is to know where your children are at all times, especially on Halloween. And, that's best accomplished by being with them.
